October leaves just enough room to squeeze in one more trip before the holiday rush. And if the rest of this year is already accounted for, these stays offer plenty of reasons to start looking ahead to 2027. A worthwhile deal only makes the planning easier.

Loews Miami Beach Hotel

Miami, FL

Following a recent transformation, Loews Miami Beach Hotel has ushered in a new era of coastal luxury on South Beach's iconic Collins Avenue. Omni Royal Orleans

New Orleans, LA

Few cities have quite the personality of New Orleans, where jazz spills onto the streets, historic architecture tells centuries of stories, and some of the country's best food is never far away. In the heart of the French Quarter, Omni Royal Orleans puts you right in the middle of it all, at the corner of St. Louis and Royal streets. Spend the day exploring Jackson Square, browsing Royal Street's galleries and antique shops, or soaking up the energy of Bourbon Street. Back at the hotel, rooms pair classic New Orleans charm (think wrought-iron balconies in select rooms) with modern comforts. Upstairs, take a break from the blues and bustle at the heated rooftop pool and observation deck, with sweeping views of the French Quarter and Mississippi River. For dinner, the Rib Room serves prime rib, steaks, and seafood, while Three Maries Jazz Club keeps the New Orleans spirit going with live music and cocktails.

The Foundry Hotel Asheville, Curio Collection by Hilton

Asheville, NC

In Asheville, wellness tends to unfold outside, shaped by mountain air, long trails, and a culture that treats a well-poured beer with the same reverence as a morning hike. The Foundry Hotel Asheville, Curio Collection by Hilton, sits within that rhythm, rooted in The Block yet within easy reach of the Blue Ridge's pull. Its former life as a steel foundry still reads in the building's bones, though the pace inside has softened. Guest rooms filter in natural light through industrial-scale windows, offering a reset after hours spent on nearby trails or wandering through the city's gallery-lined streets. Mornings can start with a measured breakfast at The Refinery before heading out toward Asheville's network of hikes, or simply through downtown toward South Slope's breweries, where craft becomes its own form of ritual. Evenings return to Workshop Lounge, where a thoughtful bourbon list and carefully built cocktails invite a slower tempo. Wellness here is not prescribed; it is absorbed through the setting, with the hotel acting as a steady anchor.
